Certificate Disclosure and Agreement

In the following Disclosure and Agreement, unless otherwise noted, the words "I," "me," "mine," "my," "us," "they," "their," and "our" mean each and all of those (whether one or more persons) who are subject to this agreement(s) as a result of opening a Certificate. The words "you," "your," and "yours" mean Digital Federal Credit Union (DCU). The words "Savings Certificate(s)" refer to any standard (Regular or Jumbo) non-IRA* DCU Certificate. DCU may offer unique certificates with differing terms and/or conditions but will identify them and provide such terms and conditions as are applicable.

Deposits

A certificate may be opened with a minimum deposit of $100, $500, or $25,000. Additional deposits of not less than $100 may be made at any time to Savings Certificates with full terms of twelve (12) months or less. For all IRA Certificates and other Savings Certificates, additional deposits may only be made at renewal.

Minimum Balance

A minimum balance of $100, $500, or $25,000 is required in order to maintain an active certificate. If the balance ever becomes less than $100, $500, or $25,000, as applicable, the certificate will automatically be closed by DCU; a penalty will be applied and the Savings or Quick Start Certificate funds transferred to my Savings Account, or the IRA Certificate funds transferred to a Savings IRA.

Maturity

In order to earn the stated dividend rate, no less than the minimum balance must remain in the certificate until maturity.

Withdrawals Prior to Maturity

Withdrawals may be made without DCU penalty prior to the maturity date of the certificate only upon:

1. The death of any owner of the certificate, or
2. The voluntary or involuntary liquidation of the credit union issuing the certificate.

Note: IRS PENALTIES MAY APPLY on withdrawals from IRA Certificates.

Dividends

Funds earn dividends from the date of deposit (cash and non-cash items). The Annual Percentage Yield (APY) is based on an assumption that dividends and original principal will remain in the certificate until maturity. A withdrawal prior to maturity may reduce earnings. Dividends are calculated using the daily balance method and are compounded daily. I may choose one of the following dividend payment methods:

- monthly, to the Certificate
- monthly, to my Savings or Checking (Savings Certificate)

If no payment method is selected, dividends will be credited to the certificate the last day of each calendar month.

Note: Early withdrawal penalties (when applicable), are calculated on and withdrawn from dividends. If dividends have been previously withdrawn or have been paid to a savings or checking account and a withdrawal subject to penalty is performed, the calculated penalty amount will be withdrawn from the existing certificate balance.

Dividend Penalty Calculation

1. If the term is three (3) to eleven (11) months, I shall forfeit an amount equal to the lesser of:

- (a) All dividends (accrued and posted) for 60 days on the amount withdrawn, or
- (b) All dividends on the amount withdrawn since the date of issuance or renewal not to be less than 7 days' dividends on a new certificate.

2. If the term is twelve (12) to thirty-five (35) months, I shall forfeit an amount equal to the lesser of:

- (a) All dividends (accrued and posted) for 90 days on the amount withdrawn, or
- (b) All dividends on the amount withdrawn since the date of issuance or renewal not to be less than 7 days' dividends on a new certificate.

3. If the term is thirty-six (36) to sixty (60) months, I shall forfeit an amount equal to the lesser of:

- (a) All dividends (accrued and posted) for 180 days on the amount withdrawn, or
- (b) All dividends on the amount withdrawn since the date of issuance or renewal not to be less than 7 days' dividends on a new certificate

* Individual Retirement Account - a government regulated savings plan.

Quick Start Certificates only. All other terms and conditions apply.

Reporting Dividends

DCU is required to report the gross dividends credited on any Savings or Quick Start Certificate to the Internal Revenue Service at the end of the calendar year. It is my responsibility to record any penalties applied and claim any allowable deduction on my income tax return.

Jump-Up Certificate

If this is a Jump-Up Certificate, I may contact you once, at any time during the term of the certificate, and notify you to change the existing dividend rate and APY to that of the dividend rate and APY currently being offered for the same type and term certificate, excluding special offers. I understand this option is available to me only one time during the stated term and that once the change has been made, the adjusted dividend rate and APY will remain in effect until the maturity date. Upon renewal you will consider it a new term at which time I will be able to exercise this option again. Early withdrawal penalties, if applicable, to Jump-Up Certificates will be calculated at the rate I am earning at the time of the withdrawal.

Automatic Renewal

You will send me a notice at least 15 calendar days before the maturity date. If the funds are not withdrawn at maturity, or I have not given you instructions regarding the disposition of the funds, the certificate balance will be automatically renewed for the original time period and at the APY, dividend rate and terms and conditions currently in effect for that time period. I will have a grace period of five (5) calendar days after the maturity date to withdraw the funds, change the term, or add to the principal balance of any IRA Certificate or a Savings Certificate with a term of greater than twelve (12) months. Dividends will not be paid on amounts withdrawn during the grace period. If upon maturity you no longer offer a particular certificate product, or certificates for that time period or minimum balance, the balance will be automatically transferred to the Prime Owner's Savings Account (1) for a Savings Certificate or to a Savings IRA for an IRA Certificate.
